Located in an old 18th century farmhouse restored since about a decade on the slopes of Pollino, starting from recovered and reinstated scions, the young Valerio works incessantly and with so much enthusiasm to give new life and enhance the native Calabrian vines, such as the lacrima di Castrovillari, clone of the magliocco dolce.

After a rather difficult year, especially for low yields, but with a high quality, Valerio's project is ambitious but precise: reduction of the international vines from here to three years, introduction of a pure white mantonico wine and its first wine aged in barriques.
